A2FINTECS: FROM DEVELOPMENT TO DELIVERY

The A2FINTECS project is entering an exciting stage as the consortium moves from the development of project outputs towards their final implementation. After successfully completing the design of the competency framework and the development of the training curriculum, partners are now concentrating on transforming these results into an engaging digital learning experience that will support SMEs, VET learners, educators, and professionals across Europe.

Recent months have focused on integrating the training materials into the A2FINTECS digital platform while simultaneously enhancing the learning experience through multimedia resources and interactive elements. These activities represent an important step towards ensuring that the platform delivers practical, accessible, and user-friendly training on fintech concepts and digital financial innovation.

This edition of the newsletter provides an overview of the consortium's latest progress, highlighting the outcomes of the May online follow-up meeting and outlining the activities that will shape the project's final phase.

MAY 2026 ONLINE FOLLOW-UP MEETING: ADVANCING THE DIGITAL PLATFORM

On 25 May 2026, representatives from Vernian, Pleiades, ServIn, 5Comply, Malta Stock Exchange Institute, and the University of Burgos met online to review the progress achieved since the Transnational Project Meeting in Athens and coordinate the next steps towards the completion of the A2FINTECS digital platform.

One of the main achievements discussed during the meeting was the successful transfer of all training modules to the platform. With this important milestone completed, partners are now refining the learning content to ensure that each module is concise, well-structured, and aligned with the intended learning duration. The review process also aims to improve readability and facilitate the integration of the materials into the online learning environment.

Alongside the platform content, significant progress is being made in the development of multimedia resources that will enrich the learners' experience. Infographics, podcasts, and animated videos are being produced to complement the training modules and present complex fintech concepts in an engaging and accessible way. Partners are also reviewing multilingual versions of the materials to ensure consistency, quality, and accessibility across all participating countries.

The consortium also discussed the learner journey within the platform, agreeing on a consistent structure for assessments and downloadable learning resources. Practical case studies will remain integrated throughout the modules, encouraging learners to apply newly acquired knowledge in realistic scenarios, while final assessment activities will enable users to evaluate their overall understanding at the end of each module.

Overall, the meeting confirmed that the project remains on schedule and that all partners continue to work collaboratively towards delivering a high-quality digital learning platform.

A2FINTECS AT THE SEPIE ERASMUS+ KA220 MONITORING CONFERENCE

The Coordinators of the A2FINTECS project recently participated in the SEPIE Monitoring Conference for Erasmus+ Cooperation Partnerships (KA220), held in Madrid on 27 - 28 May 2026.

Over two inspiring days, the event brought together project coordinators and experts to share knowledge, exchange experiences and discuss best practices for managing high-impact Erasmus+ projects. Sessions covered key topics such as project management, dissemination strategies, website design, quality assurance, sustainability and the successful exploitation of project results.

For the A2FINTECS team, the conference was an excellent opportunity to strengthen our knowledge, learn from other successful initiatives and gather valuable ideas that will help us maximise the impact of our project.

We return with fresh inspiration and new insights that will support the final development of our digital platform and the upcoming pilot activities.

Together, we continue building innovative FinTech education for Europe!

The coming months will be particularly important as A2FINTECS moves closer to its final implementation and validation.

Key priorities include:

- final refinement and optimisation of the training modules for online delivery;
- completion of the remaining multimedia resources, including infographics, podcasts, and motion videos;
- continued development, testing, and validation of the digital platform;
- preparation for pilot activities and user feedback;
- further dissemination of project results and engagement with stakeholders across Europe.

The next online consortium meeting, scheduled for the end of June, will review progress on these activities before partners meet again in Malta for the next Transnational Project Meeting. This meeting will provide an opportunity to present consolidated project results, discuss the outcomes of platform testing, and coordinate the final implementation activities leading towards the project's completion.

A SHARED COMMITMENT TO DIGITAL INNOVATION

The achievements made so far reflect the strong collaboration and shared commitment of all A2FINTECS partners. By combining expertise from the fields of education, finance, compliance, technology, and vocational training, the consortium continues to develop practical learning resources that respond to the evolving needs of Europe's digital economy.

As the project progresses towards its conclusion, A2FINTECS remains focused on its core objective: equipping SMEs, learners, and educators with the knowledge and practical skills needed to understand, adopt, and confidently use fintech solutions in an increasingly digital financial environment.
